A differential planetary gear apparatus ~~according to the present invention relates to~~ ~~characterized in that the differential planetary gear apparatus~~ has a single-pinion-type structure in which one planetary gear (3) is arranged in a radial direction and one or more planetary gears (3) are arranged in a circumferential direction in a region between a sun gear (1) and a ring gear (2), a drive source (4), a speed-change motive source (5), and a driven unit (6) are disposed at any one of an input side (I), an output side (O), and a speed-change side (T), respectively, and the speed-change motive source (5) ~~comprises~~includes an electric motor.
